Weekly Message

Greetings again to our faithful readership. This week has been as hectic a week than any since lock-down was imposed. In a positive way, finally the focus was “All hands on deck” as they say, in helping all healthy residents back to resuming work. We sincerely understand the frustration with restrictions imposed due to the single positive case. We felt them with you and we were very happy to announce last Friday 18th July but the inter-agency task force (ITF), that workers would be resuming work on Monday, aside from the 3 units of concern to ITF.

What measures are put in place to prevent such restrictions being imposed in future?

As much as we would like to say this won't happen again, we can't be 100% sure however, we are in close communications with the relevant authorities and what we can tell you is that JTF and MOM have acknowledged and apologized that they have not commented on the wider concerns we have raised, such as to revise their policy of imposing dormitory-wide orders for similar future cases. We will continue pressing the ITF to push for a response. In the meantime, we seek your support in encouraging your workers to adhere to any and all of the safety measures put in place to protect them and ultimately, if we can all abide by the guidelines that have been set, this will give us the best chance of not having any further stop-work orders placed on the dormitory in future. We thank you again for your support and understanding.

Help us Help You!

Employers can help by:

1. Ensuring your workers' addresses are updated in the Online Foreign Worker Address Service (OFWAS), including details such as floor and unit number. The addresses should tally with our dormitory management system, which is updated quickly when workers are moved to meet segregation or cohorting requirements. You can find the current correct address of your workers simply, by logging in to the Westlite Employer Portal (“Westlite Portal”).
2. Securing approval from the relevant authority (such as MTI, BCA or EDB) for your company and workers to resume work.
3. Updating in the Westlite Portal the work approval status of your workers as well as arrangements for your dedicated transport and allocated pick-up and drop-off sites and times.
4. Helping to reinforce to your workers that they must strictly comply with quarantine and movement restrictions. No leaving the room for any reason, as this will jeopardise their returning to work.

Catering Situation

The feedback from site team is that most residents prefer to cook their own food in their unit. Currently residents are given a time slot according to their level, to come down to the mini mart and buy groceries. In addition, only 1 representative from each unit is allowed to come down..
