Weekly Message

Greetings again to our faithful readership. This week has been as hectic a week than any since lock-down was imposed. In a positive way, finally the focus was “All hands on deck” as they say, in helping all CIVD-Cleared residents back to resuming work. Block 32 and 36 were de-gazetted on Saturday 18th July and are now designated cleared blocks for recovered workers, and they have progressively commenced returning to work on week of 20th July. There are also some COVID-negative workers that have been cleared at external quarantine facilities, returning to the dormitory and they are places under 7 day Stay-Home-Notice and will be able to return to work thereafter.

For residents remaining in Block 34, they have either tested negative for COVID-19 through swab tests. This block is now under quarantine for 14 days from 17th July, with strict security checks and records kept, to ensure that residents adhere to the non-mingling rules between units and floors. Residents must stay inside their rooms for the duration to avoid any potential virus transmission. Food and essentials will be delivered daily, and all activities, including remittance services, must be done online. With your help in the following areas we can ensure that Westlite Mandai's residents have fully resumed work but we cannot do it without the help of employers. Please to take a look at the new “Help us Help You” section on what employers can do to help workers back to work sooner.

Help us Help You!

Employers can help by:

1. Ensuring your workers' addresses are updated in the Online Foreign Worker Address Service (OFWAS), including details such as floor and unit number. The addresses should tally with our dormitory management system, which is updated quickly when workers are moved to meet segregation or cohorting requirements. You can find the current correct address of your workers simply, by logging in to the Westlite Employer Portal (“Westlite Portal”).
2. Securing approval from the relevant authority (such as MTI, BCA or EDB) for your company and workers to resume work.
3. Updating in the Westlite Portal the work approval status of your workers as well as arrangements for your dedicated transport and allocated pick-up and drop-off sites and times.
4. Helping to reinforce to your worker in Block 34, they must strictly comply with quarantine and movement restrictions. No leaving the room for any reason, as this will jeopardise their returning to work.

Catering Situation

Food catering currently provided by MOM for ALL workers housed in Block 32 and 36 is due to cease on 27th July. Employers will need to make alternative arrangements for meals from 28th July which Westlite can assist with if required. Residents can still purchase from mini mart.
